Required School of Worship Classes

Interview and audition required for entrance and selection into School of Worship (SOW) at River Impact University.

Worship Foundations - Foundations is the first class in the Worship series. In Foundations we will overview what praise and worship is from a biblical point of view and how that corresponds to modern praise and worship. Who's called to be involved in worship ministry? What kind of character is required? What does it mean to have a lifestyle of worship? This class will cover what it means to have a personal worship time, spiritual preparation, relationships, and balance in ministry. (F23)

Music Theory 1 - Theory 1 is the first class in the Theory series. In Theory 1 the musician will gain a basic understanding of the elements that form musical composition, including notes, dynamics, melody, harmony, and rhythm. (F23)

Worship Team Leadership - Leadership is the second class in the Worship series. Completion of Foundations is required for entry to this class. In Leadership you're now the leader. How do you handle things such as communication, delegation, team building, confrontation and correction of sin issues, leading off the stage, and working with other leaders and departments? This class delves into what the role and responsibility of the worship leader typically is.

Worship Flow - Flow and the Prophetic is the third class in the Worship series. Completion of Foundations and Leadership is required for entry to this class. In Flow and the Prophetic we dig into spontaneous flow worship and the prophetic word. We will discover how these are similar and different and how they can enhance and distract from each other. We'll discuss how they can work together to give the congregation a true spiritual worship experience.

Instrument Class - Choose your area of skills or ability on the Instrumental Classes tracks.
